Trocaire 2026: 5th Sunday of Lent In today's gospel, Jesus is surrounded by a culture of death. Since 2010, over 100 Honduran human rights activists have been murdered. In the gospel today, Jesus gives hope, compassion, resurrection and love to those who are in turmoil. We are called to take away the stone, to come out of the tomb, to unbind the oppressed and let them free. What we do, what we buy, how we use the plentiful resources at our disposal all affect the wider global community

Today's Gospel: A human heart When people read this they say they see that Jesus is a real human being, son of God, God of heaven, man of the earth, weeping over a friend. His was a human heart. He liked friends and he found a home and a safe place with them, over the hill and away from the mob. We might picture him there – the talk, the chat, the prayers, the love; meals with other friends who dropped in, times of prayer and silence. The one who can share a laugh, eat a scone, have a drink or a cuppa. Not always so serious, even about religion. There's no such thing as a sad saint! He is a good friend. Friendship gives new spirit. When life is ending we will give thanks for friends, and regret the way we have drifted or hurt each other. Real friendship is when another's thoughts and life become at least as or more important than our own. So the resurrection and the life is not just for after death. It is for now. We raise each other up in friendship and in love. In that is the grace of the Lord, himself a friend, for when we love, God lives in us. Picture your friends and those you love and give thanks to God for each of them. Lord, help me to keep love and friendship alive in my life.

Sacrament of Confirmation Let us celebrate with renewed zeal the grace of the Holy Spirit to inspire and direct our lives, to protect and bless our families, especially those celebrating the Sacrament of Confirmation this week As we pray for the Confirmation candidates let us ponder the words of Pope Francis with regard the Sacrament of Confirmation. "When we welcome the Holy Spirit into our hearts and allow him to act, Christ makes himself present in us and takes shape in our lives; through us it will be he – Christ himself – who prays, forgives, gives hope and consolation, serves the brethren, draws close to the needy and to the least, creates community and sows peace. Think how important this is: by means of the Holy Spirit, Christ himself comes to do all this among us and for us. This week we ask God's blessing on all of our children receiving the Sacrament of Confirmation and we thank their parents and teachers and all who have helped them prepare for Tuesday next . .

Reflection I believe in death. I believe that it is part of life. I believe that we are born to die, to die that we may live more fully; born to die a little each day to selfishness, to pretence and to sin. I believe that every time we pass from one stage of life to another, something in us dies and something new is born. I believe we taste death in moments of loneliness, rejection, sorrow, disappointment and failure. I believe that we are dying before our time when we live in bitterness, in hatred and in isolation. I believe that each day we are creating our own death by the way we live. For those with faith, death is not extinguishing the light, it is putting out the lamp because the dawn has come.

Scripture reflection: Lord, we remember today the times when we were like Lazarus in the tomb, rejected, discouraged, in despair, feeling that life was not worth living, overwhelmed by guilt so that we wanted to hide ourselves away from the world. We thank you that you sent Jesus to us as we lay in the tomb in the form of a friend, a parent, uncle or aunt, some member of our church community – and this Jesus loved us, reached out to us in the tomb, and in a loud, confident voice, called us to come out. Thank you, Lord.
